RIGHTS OF THE SECRETARY OF WAR. The Secretary quotes at length from precedents and general orders showing that chiefs of staff corps, departments and bureaus were considered as withdrawn from the orders of the General Commander of the Army. He consider that the Secretary of War is by law charged with civil matters of which the principal relate to river and harbor works, charged with plyl makers or what are principal relate to fiver and harbor works, also with many matters growing out of the late rebellion, the general fiscal stiministration relating to the army through bureaus of the War Department and the chiefs of those bureaus, and their subordinates must necessarily be under the exclusive orders of the Secretary of War. He encloses memorandum of the list of orders considered as having been irregularly issued by the companding General and concludes: I have no wish to aggrantize my own exclusive functions or diminish your command. My personal frendship as well as my high respect for you as an officer would alike prevent such action but it is a dnty I cannot avoid to preserve infant the exclusive authority required by law, regulations and custom to be exercised by the Secretary of War, and take such measures as will without fail assomplish this end. Judge Williams, Third Anditor of the Treasury has several times requested him to forward his accounts for examination, but so far Mr. Norris has not taken the slightest notice of his letter. In making his last formal request the Auditor called Mr. Norris attention to sections $,622 and 5,391 of the revised statutes which require that all officers who hold public funds for disbursement shall render a monthly account within ten days after the expiration of each successive month, and provides that officers who fall to comply with this requirement shall be deamed guilty of embesalement and subject to fine and inprisonment. This letter, it is said, has produced no better effect than its predecessors, and the officials are in somewhat of a quandary as to how to proceed. There, are no imputations against Norris' official integrity.
